1 Introduction

1.1 Atlantis Origins

In the times before the younger dryas era a great cataclysm laid an ancient civilization. Once from a planet far away which had succumbed to a deteriorating atmosphere known as Nibiru. The Anunnaki (an ancient alien race) made their way to Earth in search of a way to save their civilization, mining gold to try and help save Nibiru's atmosphere. The Anunnaki engineered a new dystopian civilization with gods and humans under the same sun. An advanced civilization now known as Atlantis was born. Led by the inscriber of the ancient Emerald Tablets Thoth the Atlantean ruled a higher society powered by the pyramids' zero-point energy and AI technology beyond anything you could ever imagine. However, like all civilizations that rise, Atlantis met a terrible fate. Earth faced a great cataclysm and once again the Anunnaki fled before Atlantis sank to the bottom of the ocean thought to be never seen again. As for humanity, only few survived.

For tens of thousands of years the lost civilization of Atlantis has been searched for but the wait is finally over as Atlantis has risen from the depths to lead a new technological path on Monad! Atlantis is a V4 decentralized exchange (DEX) & DeFi Hub built for the Monad Network & the Nad community. Inspired by the advanced technological knowledge of Atlantis we dive into the architecture, features, and roadmap of Atlantis below. Whether you are a potential user, investor, or stakeholder, this Modern version of the atlantean tablets serves as your essential resource, offering a simple understanding of the Atlantis ecosystem and its groundbreaking contributions to the decentralized blockchain.

2 Executive Summary

In the heart of Atlantis, AI and technological advancements thrived. The Atlanteans, guided by Thoth and other Anunnaki gods, created technology that allowed for all to thrive and prosper. Today, Atlantis embodies that same energy, emerging as a next-generation V4 decentralized exchange and DeFi Hub on the Monad Network. Atlantis offers a full suite of decentralized finance solutions, including a Launchpad, Automated Market Maker (AMM), cross-chain swap, fiat on/off ramp, liquidity pools, and more. This white paper will walk you through the architecture and Technological advancements of Atlantis.

3 Network Architecture

3.1 Monad Network – The Foundation of Modern Atlantis

Atlantis thrives on the powerful Monad Network, much like how the ancient city of Atlantis thrived on its advanced technologies and zero point energy. Monad's capability to support 10,000 transactions per second is reminiscent of the efficiency and foresight of Atlantean engineering, influenced by the teachings of Thoth and the advanced knowledge of the Anunnaki, ensuring that even the most complex and high-demand decentralized applications run smoothly and secure.

Just as the Atlanteans bridged the realms of AI and Society, Monad bridges decentralized and traditional platforms with its cutting-edge architecture. With full compatibility with EVM bytecode and the Ethereum RPC API, Monad ensures that developers can easily transition to this powerful network, reflecting the adaptability and resourcefulness of Atlantean culture.

Monad's single-shard architecture creates a unified and powerful system, displaying the Atlantean ideal of a cohesive and interconnected society. The network achieves remarkable performance through parallel execution and superscalar pipelining, techniques that mirror the layered and efficient methods used by Atlantean builders. Superscalar pipelining breaks tasks into stages and executes them concurrently, while parallel execution utilizes multiple cores and threads to perform tasks simultaneously while preserving the order of transactions.

4 Tokenomics

4.1 ATL Token

ATL is the primary token for various activities on Atlantis, including incentives, staking, and overall user engagement. The tokenomics of ATL are meticulously designed to achieve equitable distribution among all stakeholders and ensure long-term sustainability. Below is a detailed breakdown of the token allocation:
